56. "Earth provides enough to satisfy everyone's need, but not everyone's greed." – Mahatma Gandhi

Our earth is the only planet of the solar system that has an eco system and can sustain life. It provides us shelter, food, water and other requirements. But instead of thanking our mother earth we have polluted its land, water and air. We have misused its resources. Every day, we see on TV and read in newspapers that we all should do this and that for our eco system. But, do we really do anything ? No, we just sit and watch the show and worry. We wait for Government or some NGOs to take action. Is it not our responsibility to do something about it ? We as people can play an important role in saving our eco system :

1. Trees keeps a balance in the eco system of the earth. So, we should plant more trees.
2. We should not waste or pollute water.
3. We should keep water bodies clean.
4. We should keep our surrounding neat and clean.
5. We should dispose garbage / waste properly.
6. We should stop using plastic products.
7. We should use petroleum products wisely and judiciously.
8. We should use eco friendly vehicles to reduce air pollution.
9. We should not hunt and kill animals and birds for our selfish needs.
10. We should not spread noise pollution.

Thus, by taking a few small steps, we can play an important role in saving our eco system.

OR "Birds chirping around you is a beautiful realization that life is incredibly good. Let this sound be a gentle break in your routine."

There are many types of birds : water birds, shore birds, birds of prey, night birds, huge flightless birds, scavenger birds, etc. I like many birds such as : sparrow, swan, parrot, cuckoo and kingfisher. But my favourite feathered friend is peacock.

The peacock is the most beautiful bird. It is also known as the bird of the paradise. The peacock is our national bird. It is found in the most parts of India. Its life span is 10 to 25 years. It has a shiny greenish blue colour on its body. It has a beautiful long neck and two long legs. It walks slowly and gracefully. It has two wings. It can fly for short distance. It has a crest on its head. It has long and beautiful feathers. I like to collect its feathers. The female peacock is called peahen. The peahen is not so attractive as peacock.

The peacock eats grains and insects. The peacock sings very sweetly and dances very gracefully in the rainy season. Whenever I see a peacock, I feel very happy and excited. Whenever I see a peacock dancing, my heart speaks :

"Everything in the universe has a rhythm, everything dances. But there is nothing in the world that can be compared to the style, beauty and grace of a peacock."

OR "A housewife is the backbone of her family, working tirelessly to create a harmonious home."

A homemaker or housewife is the most important person of the family. She plays an important role in our lives. All the family members have expectations from her. She works very hard the whole day to fulfill all the expectations. She wakes up very early in the morning. She prepares tea, breakfast and lunch box for husband and kids. She helps kids in getting ready for school. When everyone goes out, she starts household work. She washes clothes and cleans the house. She also prepares lunch and dinner. She helps kids in homework and study. She also takes care of elders of the house. Thus, she works hard the whole day but never complains that she is tired.

She is the first to wake up but last to sleep. We have a holiday on Sunday but a homemaker is always on duty 24 × 7. She does not get a holiday or a vacation. In fact, she has to work more on holidays. She has to work like a machine to fulfill all the needs of all the family members.

A homemaker works tirelessly day and night to serve the family. But she is not appreciated and respected by family members. She is not respected as a working woman is. She does not get the warmth and love she deserves. We should help her whenever possible. We should love and respect her for her hard work and dedication.

Subject : Diwali celebration planning
Dear brother, I just received your e-mail about your Diwali celebration planning. At the end of the e-mail you asked me to share my Diwali celebration planning. So I'm writing about my Diwali celebration planning in this e-mail. This year, we are going to celebrate Diwali at home. Mom has planned to cook many savory and sweet items for the occasion. In the evening, we will light earthen lamps and also burst fire crackers. We will also visit relatives' houses to wish them happy new year. We will also go to theatre watch some movies in the vacation. I will also complete the Diwali assignment.
Yours faithfully, Harsh Joshi
