11. ‘An Interview with Arun Krishnamurthy’ shows us how one person can make a lot of difference in saving the environment. Like Arun, we all should come together and play our part in keeping our environment clean.

Arun Krishnamurthy is a young environmentalist. Just at the age of 17, he founded EFI - Environmentalist Foundation of India. Arun and his team clean lakes, beaches and zoos. They also plant trees and make eco-friendly paper bags. When Arun was a child, he and his friends cleaned a pond next to his house which was heavily polluted. Thus, he was interested in saving environment from his childhood. Arun is also a nature lover. He loves animals and birds. Arun’s parents and teachers supported him a lot. He left a well paid job at Google for EFI. He encourages young students to volunteer. He also offers fellowships to the students who are interested in saving environment.

Indeed, Arun is a role model for all of us !

OR ‘Our Feathered Friends’ takes us to the world of colourful birds giving information about different birds like : the tailor bird, grey hornbill, weaver bird, vulture, sparrow, rosy pastor and other migratory birds.

The weaver bird is a small bird. It is known as (called) ‘Sughari’ in Gujarati. The word - ‘Sughari’ means the one who builds a beautiful house. The weaver bird is famous for its beautiful nests. It uses long thread like grass leaves to build its nest. It takes about 18 days to complete a nest. When the nest is half complete, the male weaver bird invites the female weaver bird for pairing. The female weaver bird examines the nest. If she accepts the nest, they finish it together. But if she does not like the nest, it is abandoned. Let’s admire the beautiful piece of art by this beautiful bird !

56. Essay : The Choice of my career

Choosing a career is one of the most important decisions in life. It shapes our future and defines our path. For me, the choice of my career is driven by my dream, my passion, and my desire to serve humanity. Since childhood, I have always dreamed of becoming a doctor. I am deeply interested in biology and the science behind health and diseases. This passion motivates me to learn more. I want to go in the medical field because it fits perfectly with my dream and passion.

I understand that becoming a doctor requires a lot of hard work and dedication. The journey is long and demanding, with years of study and training. However, I am prepared to put in the effort because I believe the rewards are worth it. One of the main reasons I want to become a doctor is to serve humanity. I want to make a positive impact on people's lives by providing them with the best possible care. Helping others in their time of need gives me satisfaction. While earning a good income is important, it is not my primary motivation. I believe that if I excel in my field and provide quality care, financial rewards will follow. My focus is on becoming a competent and compassionate doctor. As a doctor, I will have the opportunity to help many people. Whether it's diagnosing a disease, performing surgery, or offering emotional support, my work will make a difference in the lives of my patients.

The rewards of being a doctor are not just financial. The gratitude and appreciation from patients and their families are priceless. Knowing that I have played a role in someone's recovery and well-being is the greatest reward I can imagine. In conclusion, the choice of my career as a doctor is driven by my dream, passion, and desire to serve humanity. I am ready to work hard and face the challenges ahead. The journey may be tough, but the rewards are truly fulfilling.

OR "A good friend knows all your best stories but a best friend has lived them with you."

I have many friends at school and society. But one is the most loyal and dearest to me. He is the closest to my heart. He is my best friend. His name is Avinash but I fondly call him 'Avi'. He is tall, fair and handsome. He is very kind, cheerful and talkative. I know him since childhood. He understands me very well. He knows whether I am happy or sad. Whenever I am sad, he tries to cheer me up. He is very faithful to me. Whenever I need his help, he is always there for me. He never gets angry at me. He is very good at Maths and English. So, he often helps me in study.

We play games or go for a walk in the garden every day. In vacation, we make plans on how to spend the vacation. We play games, go for camping, watch movies and make projects. Without his company, everything seems dull and boring. I cannot imagine my life without him. I am thankful to God for giving me such nice and caring friend who has a 24 carat golden heart. Whenever I think of him my heart always speaks :

"True friends like 'Avi' are like diamonds - beautiful, valuable and very rare."

OR A Visit to a modern village

Villages in India are very dirty and backward. They are surrounded by dungheaps and dirty water. Such was my view about Indian villages. But my view changed completely when I visited my uncle's village Punsari. It is a small village situated in Sabrakantha District with population of only 6,000 people.

I was surprised when the bus entered the village. The village looked clean and tidy. The village had up-to-date drainage system. All drains were underground. There was no foul smell anywhere. There was a health centre near the bus station. There was a beautiful garden in the village, too. The village also had mineral water supply. There were five primary schools with CCTV cameras. All the houses of the village had toilets. The streets were wide. Free gas was provided to all the houses through the bio gas plant. Punsari has won 'Best Village Panchayat of Gujarat award' and 'Best Gram Sabha Award' at national level. In future, Punsari will have free Wi-Fi facility / connectivity and a modern library.

Punsari is truly a modern village.

School Report Team - 10 (B)

Yesterday on 5th June our school celebrated World Environment Day. All the students and teachers took part with joy and great enthusiasm. Mr. P. B. Gadhvi, D.E.O. of Ahmedabad was invited as the chief guest. First, we gathered in school's playground. Our teachers gave us instructions. Then students of std. 10 dug holes in the ground. Our teachers and chief guest planted saplings in the ground. Students of std. 9 watered the plants. Then we were taken to the assembly hall. There, we took an oath to take care of all the plants and water them every day. Then our chief guest, Mr. P. B. Gadhvi gave his speech on the importance of trees in our lives. Then our principal, Mr. Vijay Raval gave his speech. He thanked all the teachers and students to make the celebration a great success. He also thanked Mr. P. B. Gadhvi for coming to our school. At the end of the celebration, saplings of different plants were distributed among the students. The students happily returned to their homes.

What a memorable day it was !
