SECTION A : READING SKILLS (26 marks)

1. Read the text carefully and answer the questions:

[10]

1. My father has always been a passionate man. He has always been passionate about the people of the Everest region - so much so that in 1960 he began the first of the many projects aimed at improving their lives. In 1975 he had begun building his second hospital in the Himalayas when tragedy struck our family. My mother and my youngest sister Belinda were flying into the mountains to join him when their small aeroplane crashed soon after take-off from Kathmandu.
2. I was in Assam when I first heard of the accident. I flew straight to Kathmandu and met my father and oldest sister Sarah on a narrow lane on the outskirts of the city. Any hope I had clung to, that my mother and sister were still alive, was extinguished the moment I saw father - bowed and broken. I knew then that Mum and Belinda would never return.
3. It was years before Dad fully came out of this period of darkness. Only by plunging himself into more adventures and ever more projects in Nepal, could he get through it. He has built 42 schools and hospitals there.

4. As I grew up, some of Dad's restlessness rubbed off on me. I know many people think there must be some compulsion for the son of Sir Edmund Hillary to climb mountains.

They assume that there was some imperative etched in stone that says, "Thou shalt climb mountains" - and in particular Everest, whether you like it or not. But for me, it's simpler than that. I think families are like factories: the Hillary family is a limited production mountaineering establishment.

5. Today, at the age of 48, I am an inveterate mountain man. I have been on more than 30 mountaineering expeditions, from the Himalayas to the Antarctic. And yes, I have climbed Everest - twice.

6. I treasure the same things that drew my father to climbing - the tremendous camaraderie involved, the intensity and adrenaline buzz especially in dangerous places where your life depends upon making the right call. I guess that I am luckier than most because I am able to fall back on all that my father has taught me.

(i) Complete the sentence by choosing an appropriate option.

The author's father was passionate about the people of the Everest region; so he _____.

- i. Climbed mountains
- ii. Worked on the improvement of their lives
- iii. Built schools and hospitals everywhere
- iv. Invited all the family to stay there

(ii) Comment on the effect of the plane crash in 1975 on the life Hillary family.

(iii) List the two ways how author's father came out of the dark phase in his life
(Clue: Think about the type his engagements)

(iv) Select the option that conveys the opposite of 'lethargy', from words used in paragraph six.

- i. treasure
- ii. camaraderie
- iii. intensity
- iv. adrenaline

(v) How did the author prove to be the true son of his father?

- i. He proved to be an excellent mountaineer
 - ii. He involved himself in social service
 - iii. He scaled the Everest twice
 - iv. All of these
- (vi) Based on your understanding of the last paragraph, list one major advantage that the author had which made him consider himself fortunate.
- (vii) Why did the author take up climbing like his father?
- (viii) Complete the given sentence with an appropriate inference, with respect to the following:
The phrase "Thou shalt climb mountains" means _____.
- (ix) A word similar in meaning to "section" in paragraph two is
- i. narrow
 - ii. outskirts
 - iii. extinguished
 - iv. broken
- (x) Select the most suitable title for the above passage.
- i. Mountaineering and Hillary family
 - ii. Tragedy that Struck the Hillary family
 - iii. Mountaineering - a passion of Hillary family
 - iv. Plane Crash and Mountaineering

2. Read the text carefully and answer the questions:

1. Research from the Publishers Association has shown that films based on books take 44 % more at the box office revenue in the UK and 53 % more worldwide than original screenplays. The report explores what impact a book has when adopted for film and TV.
2. The report reads: "Published material is the basis of 52 % of top UK films in the last 10 years, and accounts for an even higher share of revenue from these leading performers, at 61 % of UK box office gross and 65 % of worldwide gross." The Hollywood adaptation of "My Cousin Rachel" was shown to have a significant impact on the sales of the Daphne Du Maurier thriller. The sales of the book in 2017 alone accounted for 23 % of all sales since 1992.

3. The research suggests that adapted films tend to perform better, because films can "leverage the popularity" of well-known books through an existing audience. Films adapted from books also tend to have a richer, more fully-developed story to draw on.

In terms of TV adaptation, it was revealed that a quarter of dramas were based on literary sources and attracted a 56 % larger share of the audience than those based on original scripts. Fourteen of the 35 high end series produced in the UK in the period between January and September 2017 were based on books, compared to seven based on true stories or historical events and five based on pre-existing films or TV stories.

4. In the case of the 2016 BBC broadcast of "The Night Manager", research revealed that while the novel was in circulation for over 25 years, 82 % of the copies it sold were in 2016 and 2017. Sales of the paperback edition remained strong in 2017 even after the series went off the air.

5. In conclusion, the report states that "there is a strong two-way relationship between publishing and the wider creative economy. wherein a successful adaptation often has spill-over effects and gives a substantial boost to the sales of the original book." (338 words)

3. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow:

[8]

Leadership does not exist without followership. A leader has to be accepted by the group which the former is supposed to lead. To gain acceptability, the leader should cause an emotive impact on the group members.

The strength of character exhibited by leaders makes them dear to their followers. A leader is one who effectively inspires followers to achieve worthwhile things. What character of the leader motivates the followers? It is not pomp and show, neither flattery nor sanctioning more incentives. Pomp and show create a sense of awe and the leader is deified rather than emulated. Flattery is unrealistic and cannot serve as a long term motivational tool. A leader's style should be one that can be emulated by all irrespective of cadre, class and calibre. Simplicity in one's day-to-day conduct is the only thing that can be adopted by all. When the leader is simple, he is counted as one belonging to the group of which he is the leader. That's enough to motivate the people. Motivation is the innate quality that enables an individual or group to contribute unlimitedly with limited means. It is the proud prerogative of enlightened human beings.

A leader needs to assume the role of a guide; quintessential of fulfilling the role is knowledgeability. Technical and administrative knowledge of the guide in balanced quantity and of right kind are essential. Technical knowledge is too vast to be acquired by a leader. At best he is either 'Jack of all' or 'Master of few'. But he has to master the human relations aspect of administration in all detail. And when the leader is good at this, his guidance is sought and accepted, then he fulfils the role of a guide. The leader is a negotiator within and outside the organisation.

The leader shapes people and moulds character. To achieve this the leader should maintain equanimity. Equanimity is keeping oneself poised and balanced at all times. A leader is simply great if he can mould his followers with his frame of mind. He does this by his own example.

- a. On the basis of your understanding of the above passage, make notes on it using headings and sub-headings. Use recognizable abbreviations (wherever necessary-minimum four) and a format you consider suitable. Also supply an appropriate title to it.

- These shaggy monsters, blacker than the darkest night, usually wore bright red collars and barked furiously with massive jaws. They were completely fearless of our vehicle, shooting straight into our path, causing Tsetan to brake and swerve. The dog would make chase for a hundred metres or so before easing off, having seen us off the property. It wasn't difficult to understand why ferocious Tibetan mastiffs became popular in China's imperial courts as hunting dogs, brought along the Silk Road in ancient times as tribute from Tibet. By now we could see snow-capped mountains gathering on the horizon. We entered a valley where the river was wide and mostly clogged with ice, brilliant white and glinting in the sunshine. The trail hugged its bank, twisting with the meanders as we gradually gained height and the valley sides closed in.

- i. How did the Tibetan mastiffs react when they encountered the protagonist's vehicle?
- ii. What can be inferred about the behaviour and characteristics of Tibetan Mastiffs?
- iii. Identify the line from the passage that provides evidence of the Tibetan mastiffs' historical significance and their connection to China's imperial courts.

(ii) Read the following extract and answer the questions that follow:

In the evening a change came over her. She did not pray. She collected the women of the neighbourhood, got an old drum and started to sing. For several hours she thumped the sagging skins of the dilapidated drum and sang of the home-coming of warriors. We had to persuade her to stop to avoid overstraining. That was the first time since I had known her that she did not pray. The next morning she was taken ill. It was a mild fever and the doctor told us that it would go. But my grandmother thought differently. She told us that her end was near. She said that, since only a few hours before the close of the last chapter of her life she had omitted to pray, she was not going to waste any more time talking to us. We protested. But she ignored our protests. She lay peacefully in bed praying and telling her beads. Even before we could suspect, her lips stopped moving and the rosary fell from her lifeless fingers. A peaceful pallor spread on her face and we knew that she was dead.

- i. What was the first noticeable change in the grandmother's behaviour before she fell ill?
- ii. How would you convince your grandmother, as her grandson, to cease drumming and singing?
- iii. Pick evidence from the passage that suggests the grandmother's evening activities were unusual and not part of her regular routine.

11. Read the given extracts and answer the questions for ANY ONE of the two, given. [4]

(i) Read the following extract and answer the questions that follow: [4]

Still kneeling, Andrew stared at the child with a haggard frown. The whiteness meant only one thing: asphyxia, pallida, and his mind, unnaturally tense, raced back to a case he once had seen in the Samaritan, to the treatment that had been used. Instantly he was on his feet.

"Get me hot water and cold water," he threw out to the nurse. "And basins too. Quick! Quick!" "But, Doctor-" she faltered, her eyes on the pallid body of the child.

- i. What instructions did Andrew give to the nurse? How did the doctor try to revive the child?
- ii. When the doctor instructed the nurse why did she hesitantly say, "But, Doctor-" in the extract provided? This is so, because she _____.
 - a. was sure about the treatment.
 - b. thought the efforts were useless.
 - c. did not trust the doctor.
 - d. was in utter amazement.
- iii. The analogy of whiteness of the child is an appropriate analogy for a case in Samaritan because _____.
- iv. Give one reason why the medical condition mentioned in the extract can be considered true in the case.

(ii) Read the following extract and answer the questions that follow: [4]

Nobody could understand where we ever got money enough to keep us with food in our bellies, not even the old men of the family. Most important of all, though, we were famous for our honesty. We had been famous for our honesty for something like eleven centuries, even when we had been the wealthiest family in what we liked to think was the world. We were proud first, honest next, and after that we believed in right and wrong. None of us would take advantage of anybody in the world, let alone steal.

- i. What is the meaning of the expression "Keep us with food in our bellies"?
 - A. To remain hungry
 - B. To remain thirsty
 - C. To remain satiated

D. To remain perplexed

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

Respected Principal, teachers, and friends!

Global warming has accelerated the rise of temperature on earth. The sea level is also rising and glaciers are melting away. Natural calamities are taking a toll of life on earth. Floods and scanty rainfall result in a crunch of food products, drinking water and disturb normal living conditions. The drought in Rajasthan has led to deaths and famine. Man is himself to blame for the deterioration of the ecosystem. Depleting forests, industrial pollution, toxic-wastes, vehicular pollution, cutting of trees in cities, and lack of green cover are some of the contributory factors. The entire process of environmental pollution is becoming a vicious cycle. The urgent need of the hour is to protect the environment. School children have begun to create awareness by campaigning against polythene bags and recycling waste material. Let us join hands to protect our forests^ grow more trees, check toxic pollutants and change our lifestyle.

Thank you.

Importance of Physical Fitness

Physical fitness is not only one of the most important keys to a healthy body, it is the basis of dynamic and creative intellectual activity. - JF Kennedy

Good morning students! I, Karuna, your sports teacher have come before you all to emphasise the importance of maintaining physical fitness along with a sound mind. Being physically fit does not necessarily mean having a lean body; it actually means having a strong body endurance, along with good muscle strength and cardiovascular fitness. It is also important to remember that a physically fit body is generally accompanied with a happy and satisfied state of mind. In the recent sports events, I observed that only a few players sustained injuries.

A physically fit person has lower stress levels and this is beneficial for his mental well-being. In adolescents, physical activity can improve aerobic capacity, flexibility, muscular strength and endurance. It also increases their self-esteem and builds bone mass. We, as teachers, need to help our students in developing the knowledge, attitudes and skills that they need to adopt and maintain a physically active lifestyle.

To conclude, let me emphasise that remaining fit and active are critical for our health and well-being.

Thank you!

8. For the Motion: Chance plays a great role in the success of a businessman.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

I stand before you to argue in favour of the motion that "Chance plays a great role in the success of a businessman." While hard work, skill, and determination are undeniably important, the element of chance cannot be overlooked.

Chance undeniably plays a significant role in the success of a businessman. Many successful entrepreneurs attribute their achievements to being in the right place at the right time. For instance, meeting a potential investor by chance or stumbling upon a lucrative market opportunity can propel a business to new heights.

Additionally, external factors such as economic conditions, market trends, and even global events can create unforeseen opportunities that a businessman can capitalize on. While hard work and skill are essential, the element of luck often bridges the gap between effort and success.

Studies have shown that random events and luck significantly impact who becomes successful. Therefore, acknowledging the role of chance does not undermine the importance of hard work but rather provides a more comprehensive understanding of success.

Thank you

Against the Motion: Chance Plays a Great Role in the Success of a Businessman

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Success in business is primarily driven by hard work, strategic planning, and perseverance, rather than chance. Successful businessmen meticulously plan their ventures, conduct thorough market research, and continuously adapt to changing circumstances. They build networks, acquire skills, and make informed decisions that steer their businesses towards success.

While chance events may occasionally influence outcomes, they are not the primary determinants of success. Relying on luck undermines the value of dedication and effort that entrepreneurs invest in their businesses.

Historical examples of successful businessmen, such as Steve Jobs and Elon Musk, highlight the importance of vision, innovation, and relentless pursuit of goals over mere chance.

Thus, attributing success to chance diminishes the significance of hard work and strategic thinking.

Thank you

For the Motion

Good morning everyone! Respected judges, worthy opponents and the esteemed audience, Today, I Karuna of class XII, stand before you all to speak in favour of the motion, "The Internet cannot replace a classroom teacher".

The classrooms today differ from the classrooms a decade ago in multitudinous ways. The influx of technology has opened doors, expanded minds and changed the world. However, no matter how advanced and beneficial the technology has got, it can never replace a classroom teacher. There is no denying to the fact that the internet can solve a bulk of problems and provide students all the necessary answers along with illustrations.

However, it cannot replace a classroom teacher as it is devoid of any kind of emotion, which is very much required during teaching. A teacher simply does not impart knowledge or information. A teacher leads, guides, facilitates and mentors a student. He understands the emotions and sentiments of the students. He realises the positive as well as the negative feelings of the students.

A teacher faces all types of students with different mental abilities while teaching. He, thus, adjusts his teaching methodology according to them. He helps the weaker students to bloom and motivates his students accordingly. The internet cannot solve all the queries but a teacher can and that too in person. Teachers help the students to remain alert and active in the classroom during teaching, whereas a machine can never do so. Internet would never care about how much concentration, focus and attention the student is learning with. Besides, it can never beat the knowledge of human beings. In addition, it's not necessary that all the information provided by internet is genuine. Have you ever wondered where all the information or knowledge on the internet has come from? It is only we humans who have fed it into the computers.

In conclusion, I would like to say that a machine can never replace a living and breathing knowledgeable person.

Thank you!

Against the Motion

Good morning everyone! Respected judges, worthy opponents and the esteemed audience, Today, I Karuna of class XII, stand before you all to speak against the motion, "The Internet cannot replace a classroom teacher".

The classrooms today differ from the classrooms a decade ago in multitudinous ways. These days, a modern classroom is defined by technology. Teachers, administrators, parents and students have been told time and again that it is technology alone through which we can sharpen our education system. True personalised tech-infused learning is the future of education. In today's age, the old school method of books and notes is no longer beneficial. Teachers have to keep themselves updated with today's trends and have to equip themselves with the latest technology.

There is constant pressure on teachers and administrators today to implement technology in classroom. In order to fully engage the students and make them learn, a teacher will have to come out of his comfort zone and explore new ways of teaching through the internet. The internet has immense potential to upgrade today's educational system. There may come a time soon when the role of a teacher in the classroom will considerably be diminished by the internet-based learning environment .

In near future, the teacher will not be able to function without internet and technology. The teacher will have to become a facilitator of imparting trustworthy information from electronic sources. The teachers today need to strike a balance and empower themselves through technology so as to prevent themselves from getting replaced altogether by the internet.

Thank you!

15. Answer ANY ONE of the following two questions, in about 120-150 words.

- (i) The chief of builders was the first one to be held guilty. He shifted the blame on the workmen. The workmen were surprised but did not lose their reasoning power. They told the king he had forgotten the fact that the bricks were made of the wrong size. Swayed by their rational argument, the masons were summoned. They trembled with fear but shifted the blame on the architect who was responsible for planning and erecting the arch. The king ordered the architect to be hanged. The clever architect reminded the king that he had forgotten one small thing. He made certain amendments to plans when the former had shown them to the latter. The clearly meant that he held the king responsible for the mishap. The king became very angry and lost" his capacity of clear judgement. He called it a tricky thing and sought the advice the wisest man in the country. Thus each accused succeeded int shifting the blame on others.
- (ii) The play, Mother's day is full of humor and irony. It reflected the status of a mother in a family. Through the character of Mrs. Annie Pearson, a docile homemaker in the plot, the author highlighted the plight of women, especially housewives. A series of events like the playing of magic, the exchange of personalities, and the shocked behavior of Mrs. Annie Pearson's family members were all humorous as well as satirical.
- My relations with my mother are extremely healthy and cordial. We are more like friends and enjoy each other's company. I try to help my mother in the kitchen and in doing the other domestic chores. She is engrossed throughout the day catering to everyone's needs in the family. I try to help her as much as I can and really appreciate her selfless efforts. I respect my mother and completely admire her skills.
