 - o Section - A : Reading Skills
 - o Section - B : Grammar and Creative Writing Skills
 - o Section - C : Literature Text Book
3. Attempt questions based on specific instructions for each part.

Section A - Reading Skills

1. Read the following passage carefully:

[10]

1. The words probiotics, prebiotics, and postbiotics may sound like variations of the same thing, but what a difference a prefix makes. The first is a category of health-promoting microbes. The latter two groups are types of beneficial molecules. But all three biotics are critical for supporting the community of microscopic organisms that live in the gastrointestinal tract, known as the gut microbiome. With both beneficial and harmful bacteria living in the human body, these diet-related factors - the biotics - help tip the balance in the positive direction. It is important to understand their differences, as you'll see, because each of these factors serves a distinct purpose, even as they work together.
2. Despite their importance for the gut microbiome, the health benefits of these 'biotics', which are present in certain foods or result from their metabolism, extend beyond the digestive tract. A growing body of scientific evidence has linked prebiotics, probiotics, and postbiotics, with improvements in metabolic diseases - including obesity and cholesterol abnormalities - depressive symptoms and poor sleep quality, among many other conditions.
3. Besides promoting general gut health, consuming food rich in probiotics can improve irritable bowel syndrome and antibiotic-related diarrhea, prevent traveller's diarrhea, produce vitamins and increase nutrient absorption, and decrease the risk of common infections. In fact, when consumed regularly, probiotics have been found to reduce the occurrence of upper respiratory tract infections (like the common cold).

4. Many different types of beneficial bacteria are considered probiotics. The most common ones include Lactobacillus and Bifidobacterium, of which there are dozens of strains. "You have to match what it is you're concerned about with the probiotic you should use," says Gregor Reid. Many different types of beneficial bacteria are considered probiotics.
5. Some foods, such as yogurt, kefir, kimchee, and fermented soybeans and kombucha naturally contain probiotics. But here's where things get complicated: not all fermented foods or yogurts contain probiotics, Reid says. As a consumer, a good starting point is to look for the phrase "contains live and active cultures" on the label; it's even better if specific strains of bacteria are listed, because then you'll know you're getting the right stuff.
6. Simply put, prebiotics are sources of food for those beneficial microbes - the probiotics. They are typically a form of carbohydrate or fiber that we don't have the enzymes to digest. As a result, they move through the digestive tract to the intestine, where beneficial bacteria (probiotics) can feast on them.
7. When you consume foods that are rich in probiotics and prebiotics, the microbes in your gut consume the undigestible prebiotic fiber and produce bioactive compounds called postbiotics. They are ultimately the endgame that we want - they affect how our gut operates and keeps the good bacteria there and the bad bacteria out.

Answer the following questions, based on the above passage: (10)

- i. Which of the following statements best describes the author's attitude towards probiotics? (1)
 - A. Probiotics, prebiotics and postbiotics are variations of the same thing, with just a difference of a prefix.
 - B. All fermented foods or yogurts naturally contain probiotics.
 - C. All three biotics are equally important to support microscopic organisms that live in the gut microbiome.
 - D. Only probiotics are important as they can improve irritable bowel syndrome and antibiotic-related diarrhea.
- ii. According to the writer, health benefits of all the 'biotics' extend beyond the digestive tract. Rationalise your response in about 40 words. (2)

iii. Complete the sentence appropriately. (1)

To get the right probiotic and to match it with your body's requirement, it is important to see the label for _____.

vi. Based on the reading of the passage, examine in about 40 words, the importance of prebiotics for the human gut and how they are related to probiotics. (2)

vii. As a consumer, if you want to pick a probiotic product, what is the most important thing to keep in mind?

Pick the best answer. (1)

A. Any fermented product that contains probiotics.

B. Checking the label for specific strains of bacteria.

C. All products under "probiotics" section in a grocery store are safe to pick.

D. Checking the label which clearly says "probiotics" is sufficient.

viii. "Despite their importance for the gut microbiome, the health benefits of these 'biotics', which are present in certain foods or result from their metabolism, extend beyond the digestive tract." (1)

As per this statement from the passage, how relevant are the 'biotics' for humans? Pick the best answer.

A. Their relevance has been proven by scientific evidence.

B. Not very relevant as more study is needed.

C. Their relevance cannot be generalised for everyone.

D. Only probiotics are relevant for humans.

2. Read the passage given below:

[10]

1. Increasing traffic congestion every year is causing increasing air pollution, wasting time and productivity and diverse respiratory diseases. Moreover, the cost of solving or reducing traffic congestion is enormous. However, neglecting the traffic jam problem would increase the social problems among citizens.
2. The number of vehicles has increased considerably in the city in the past five years. Due to this increase, the city roads witness frequent traffic congestions, but above all, the vehicles emitting pollutants are affecting the environment adversely.
3. The Capital's vehicular population saw an addition of more than five lakh vehicles last year, registering an increase of over 4%, according to the Delhi Economic Survey 2020-21.
4. In spite of the largest road network, through metro and bus services in major cities the transport system is not being able to keep pace with the growing demand. Consequently, more and more people use their private vehicles, leading to increased congestion on the roads. In spite of these challenges people in India prefer road travel over air and other means of travel. Citizens of Delhi/NCR have, time and again, pondered over the possibilities of how to reduce the traffic congestion in the city, especially during the peak hours. People should use public transport, the government must increase the facilities of public transport, people should avoid the unnecessary collection of vehicles and should use carpool and vehicle sharing.

Delhi

Sir,

Subject: Awareness to keep Metro clean

I would like to thank the DMRC, Delhi for providing the citizens of Delhi with so much ease in commuting. I frequently use the Metro and find it very convenient. While travelling, I have noticed that though there is strict vigilance still people deface the Metro trains and stations. The tendency of people to deface public property causes lots of problems. They think that it's not their work to maintain the cleanliness around the public property like Metro. I feel that if the DMRC, collaborates with the Directorate of Education and runs awareness programs in schools, we would be able to cover a wide spectrum of people and spread the message. It would be a great service to the city if you address this issue in your daily.

Thank you,

Yours faithfully,

Sweety.

5. The given double bar graph represents student engagement in two of the most popular sports, i.e., Volleyball and Basketball. It shows a great variation in the interest of students preferring volleyball each year, however, basketball as a preference as a sport is quite constant. The highest number of children playing volleyball was in 2016 whereas it was preferred the least in the year 2019. However, there was a hike in 2018. Similarly, basketball showed a slight hike in 2016 but a decline is easily observed in 2019 like 2015. Initially, there were only 200 students who played volleyball in the year 2014 which increased gradually and reached 450 in the year 2016. There was a mixed response as the very next year the numbers declined but it again rose in 2018 followed by a decline in 2019. Basketball was preferred to volleyball thrice i.e., in 2014, 2017 and 2019. There was no change in the number of students playing basketball for the years 2017 and 2018.

(i) Mrs. Pumphrey thinks that Tricki is suffering from malnutrition. So she gives him malt, cod-liver oil and a bowl of Horlicks. As a result, she overfeeds him. No, she is not wise in this because consequently, the dog falls ill.

(ii) Bholi was definitely her teacher's masterpiece as she was not a simpleton anymore. She became the ideal human being. Now she could take her own decisions. She was capable to choose between right and wrong. Under her guidance, she overcame her handicap of stammering. She changed into a bold and confident girl. Now she had the courage to revolt against a social evil of dowry and refused to marry the greedy Bishamber Nath.

(iii) The footprints were of a man who was bare feet; they wondered who could be bare feet in such cold weather in London. The footprints were appearing from nowhere, following one after another; the boys kept following them; however, soon they became fainter and fainter and disappeared completely.

10. Answer ANY ONE of the following two questions, in about 100-120 words

(i) Yes, two interpretations of the story would be different. Spiritually, a person has deep faith in God and he recalls him in the time of distress he will definitely be answered. God will surely send help through his messengers as done in chapter 1. A letter to god. The postmaster became the messenger of God. Whereas psychologically, it interprets 'Never say die' till the end.

The narrator might also have got the insight of never to lose hope in the most hopeless situation. No one know who may come to save you. The narrator was hopeless when he was caught in the storm. He lost all contact with Paris control and all his instruments were dead. Then came a help from unknown source in form of the mysterious pilot of the black aeroplane to guide the narrator to safety.

(ii) The tiger says, "I was born wild and free, I should be in a jungle, hiding in a shadow to hunt for a prey, but I am locked in concrete cell. My strength is behind the bars. I long to be free again, to roam the forests and plains."

Mandela replies, "I, too, was born free, but I have been in this prison for years. I, too, long to be free again."

The tiger asks, "What is freedom?"

Mandela replies, "Freedom is the ability to live as we choose, to do as we please, to be free from oppression and tyranny."

The tiger says, "That sounds like a very difficult thing to achieve. I'm not sure I could ever be truly free."

Mandela says, "I think it's something we all strive for. It's the reason we fight for justice and equality. It's what gives us the strength to keep going, even when the odds are against us." The tiger was inspired by Mandela's words, and he vowed to never give up hope that one day he would be free again.

11. Answer ANY ONE of the following two questions, in about 100-120 words.

(i) 20th July Monday 9:00 PM

I couldn't recognise Matilda at all. I wish she had told me the truth about the necklace, which she didn't. I feel so sorry for her. The poor lady had to go through so much just for the sake of one artificial necklace worth 400 francs. I am surprised she hid this all from me fearing I would demand the real price of the necklace from her. Oh! I wish she should have at least spoken to me once, so that I could have got her out of this predicament. My innocent friend, Matilda, whom I love so dearly, had to go through this pain of having lost my necklace in the ball. She during this course of life has become a much tougher person. She no longer is that sweet face of woman she used to be. It clearly pains to see her like this. I would like to help her.

Madam Forestier

(ii) Anil was a twenty-five years old man. He was a writer by profession who wrote for a magazine to earn his livelihood. He earned money by fits and starts. He was a kind-hearted fellow. He loved honesty. He led a very simple life. He spent economically. When he got money, he spent it on his friends. This was the example of his simplicity. When the narrator met Anil and requested him for work. Anil told him that he could not afford his salary. But on the narrator's request, Anil decided to offer him shelter. Anil told him that he would have to cook. But the narrator didn't know how to cook. So, Anil taught him the art of cooking. He treated him kindly. He never insulted him. He also taught him how to read and write so that he could lead a respectable life.
