Sardar Sarovar Dam is one of the largest water resource projects of India covering four states - Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat and Rajasthan. The Sardar Sarovar project would meet the requirement of water in drought-prone and desert areas of Gujarat (9,490 villages and 173 towns) and Rajasthan (124 villages).

Narmada Bachao Andolan or Save Narmada Movement is a Non Governmental Organisation (NGO) that mobilised tribal people, farmers, environmentalists and human rights activists against the Sardar Sarovar Dam. It originally focused on the environmental issues related to trees that would be submerged under the dam water. Recently it has re-focused the aim to enable poor citizens, especially the oustees (displaced people) to get full rehabilitation facilities from the government. People felt that their suffering would not be in vain... accepted the trauma of displacement believing in the promise of irrigated fields and plentiful harvests. So, often the survivors of Rihand told us that they accepted their sufferings as sacrifice for the sake of their nation. But now, after thirty bitter years of being adrift, their livelihood having even being more precarious, they keep asking: "Are we the only ones chosen to make sacrifices for the nation?"

28. Read the following text carefully and answer the questions that follow: [4]

Sri Lanka emerged as an independent country in 1948. The leaders of the Sinhala community sought to secure dominance over the government by virtue of their majority. As a result, the democratically elected government adopted a series of Majoritarian measures to establish Sinhala supremacy. In 1956, an Act was passed to recognise Sinhala as the only official language, thus disregarding Tamil. The governments followed preferential policies that favoured Sinhala applicants for university positions and government jobs. A new constitution stipulated that the state shall protect and foster Buddhism. All these government measures, coming one after the other, gradually increased the feeling of alienation among the Sri Lankan Tamils. They felt that none of the major political parties led by the Buddhist Sinhala leaders was sensitive to their language and culture. They felt that the constitution and government policies denied them equal political rights, discriminated against them in getting jobs and other opportunities and ignored their interests. As a result, the relations between the Sinhala and Tamil communities strained over time.

i. What is the predominant religion in Sri Lanka? (1)

ii. What was the main objective of the Sinhala leaders in Sri Lanka after independence? (1)

Explanation:

At Chauri Chaura in Gorakhpur, a peaceful demonstration in a bazaar turned into a violent clash with the police. Hearing of the incident, Mahatma Gandhi called a halt to the Non-Cooperation Movement.

5. i. Traders and travelers introduced new foods/crops to the lands they travelled.
ii. Noodles travelled from China to western countries to become spaghetti.
iii. Arab traders took pasta to Sicily (now parts of Italy)
iv. Potatoes, tomatoes, soya, groundnuts, maize, chillies, sweet potatoes etc. were introduced in Europe and Asia after discovery of the Americas.
v. Many of our common foods came from America's original inhabitants-the American Indians.

OR

Reasons for the Nationalist upsurge in the 19th century Europe are as follows:

- i. The absolute rulers oppressed the people.
  - ii. The well-known philosophers and leaders spread liberal ideas and visions.
  - iii. The French Revolution provided the inspiration to the people to fight for freedom.
  - iv. The slogan 'Liberty, Equality and Fraternity' became the clarion call for the common people of Europe.
  - v. The French army and its soldiers began to carry the ideas of nationalism abroad with the outbreak of revolutionary wars.
6. Ireland was a country deeply divided between Catholics and Protestants. The English helped the Protestants of Ireland to establish their dominance over largely Catholic country. Catholic revolts against British dominance were suppressed. After a failed revolt led by wolf Tone and his United Irishmen, Ireland was forcibly incorporated in to United Kingdom in 1801.

OR

- i. The autocrats of Central and Eastern Europe restored the old order but could also suppress the liberal movements in 1848 as the monarchs were beginning to understand that the cycles of revolution and repression could only be terminated by granting concessions to the liberal-nationalist revolutionaries.
- ii. Hence, in the years following 1848, the autocratic monarchies of Central and Eastern Europe started introducing the changes that had already taken place in Western Europe prior to 1815.
- iii. Thus, the bonded labour and serfdom were abolished both in Russia and the Habsburg dominations.

- iv. In 1867, the Hungarians were granted more autonomy by the Habsburg rulers.
- 7. Factors that gave rise to the Civil Disobedience Movement were:
  - i. Simon Commission: It was an all-British Commission appointed in November 1927 to investigate the need for further constitutional reform. The absence of Indians was seen as an insult to the self-respect of Indians and they decided to boycott the Commission.
  - ii. Irwin's offer: Irwin's vague offer of Dominion Status for India in an unspecified future.
  - iii. Salt Law: On 12 March 1930 Mahatma Gandhi began the historic march from Sabarmati Ashram to Dandi, a village on the Gujarat sea coast. A number of people followed him. On the morning of 6th April, Gandhiji violated the Salt Laws at Dandi by picking up some salt left by the seawaves. Gandhiji's breaking of the Salt Laws marked the beginning of the Civil Disobedience Movement.
  - iv. Eleven-point Demand: Gandhiji had written a letter to Viceroy Irwin urging him to implement the eleven-point programme for fulfilling people's welfare. The British response to the demand was negative and Gandhiji launched Civil Disobedience Movement to force the government to meet the Indian demands.
  - v. Demand for Poorna Swaraj: The British government did not accept the Nehru Report and Congress passed the Poorna Swaraj resolution at its Lahore session in 1929.

OR

- When Gandhiji called the Civil Disobedience Movement, Muslims were lukewarm in their response due to the following factors:
- i. The disappointment with the Non-Cooperation Movement and how it ended without any concrete outcome.
  - ii. The decline of Khilafat and Non-Cooperation Movements led to the alienation of Muslims from the Congress.
  - iii. From the mid-1920s, the Congress was seen to be visibly associated with Hindu nationalist groups like the Hindu Mahasabha.
  - iv. Relations between Hindus and Muslims worsened and communal riots took place.
  - v. The Muslim League gained prominence with its claim of representing Muslims and demanding separate electorates for them.
  - vi. Muslim leaders were concerned about the minority status of Muslims in India. Negotiations over the question of representation continued but all hopes of resolving the issue at the All Party Conference disappeared when Hindu Mahasabha strongly opposed efforts at compromise. So when Civil Disobedience began, there was an atmosphere of distrust and suspicion among the communities and the Muslim response was lukewarm.
- 8. i. Luxury editions were handwritten on very expensive vellum, meant for aristocratic circles and rich monastic libraries which scoffed at printed books as cheap vulgarities.
  - ii. Two drawbacks of handwritten manuscripts in comparison to printed material were:
    - a. Copying was an expensive, laborious and time-consuming business.
    - b. Manuscripts were fragile, awkward to handle, and could not be carried around or read easily.
  - iii. Marco Polo's contribution to print culture was as:
    - a. In 1295, Marco Polo returned to Italy after many years of exploration in China.
    - b. He brought the knowledge of woodblock printing with him.
- 9. A - Madras, B - Chauri Chaura

(ii) Bhilai Iron and Steel Plant

Section C

20. (a) It helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups

Explanation:

Two different sets of reasons can be given in favour of power-sharing. Firstly, power-sharing is good because it helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. Since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power-sharing is a good way to ensure the stability of political order.

21.

- (d) The disparities between the rich and poor.

Explanation:

The given Cartoon tell us about the disparities between the rich and poor.

22.

- (c) Only statement iv is right.

Explanation:

No one national party is able to secure on its own a majority in the Lok Sabha, until 2014. As a result, the national parties are compelled to form alliances with State parties. Since 1996, nearly every one of the State parties has got an opportunity to be a part of one or the other national level coalition government. This has contributed to the strengthening of federalism and democracy in our country.

23. (a) Both A and R are true and R is the correct explanation of A.

Explanation:

Community government is elected by people of one language community, i.e. French, Dutch, and German-speaking. Such a government has a power related to culture, education, and language issues. It helps in resolving conflicts between different ethical groups by safeguarding the interest of its group. It also helps to avoid civic strife between the two major communities and a possible division of the country on linguistic lines.

- 24.
- Lack of awareness: The lack of awareness and conceptual clarity is one of the reason of slow success of Panchayat Raj. Some people treat it just as an administrative agency, some as an intention of democracy at grass root level and some treat it as a charter of rural, local government.
  - Irregular election: Election should hold in a gap of five years, but still irregularity is there to holding the elections.
  - Relationship of government officials and elected representatives: All work of the Panchayat Raj System is being done by the government officials, but contradiction always comes in between government officials and elected representatives and then it progresses very slowly.

- Lack of money and other support: The Panchayat Raj institutions lack enough money, administrative support and help from the government officials. That's why its progress rate is very slow.
- Most state governments havenot transferred sinificant powers to the local governments.

25. The constitutional provisions which make India a 'secular state' are as follows:

- Equal respect and recognition for all religions by the state and no discrimination by the state on the basis of religion.
- An individual has the right to practice, propagate and profess any religion.
- All individuals and communities have been given the freedom to practice, profess and propagate any religion.
- According to the constitution, the state cannot intervene in matters of religion in order to promote religious equality.

26. The 'regional political parties' that are predominant in:

Jharkhand - JMM - Jharkhand Mukti Morcha. Symbol- bow and arrow

Maharashtra - Shiv Sena. Symbol- bow and arrow.

Odisha - BJD - Biju Janata Dal. Symbol- Conch.

27. The idea of democracy gets overwhelming support all over the world because of the following reasons:

- People's Government: Democracy is embraced in South Asia because it embodies the principle of a government chosen by the people. It ensures that citizens have a say in their governance.
- Democratic Rights: Countries in South Asia emphasize democratic rights, such as the freedom to choose their representatives and have a voice in decision-making processes.
- Electing Representatives: The desire to directly elect representatives reflects the region's support for democratic practices and self-governance.
- Dignity and Freedom: Democracy is valued for providing dignity and freedom to citizens, allowing them to express their views and live with autonomy.
- Social Diversity: South Asia's diverse societies appreciate democracy as it accommodates different cultures, languages, and beliefs.
- Discussion and Negotiation: Democracy's foundation in discussion and negotiation resonates with the region's inclination for inclusive decision-making.

Examples of Democratic Nations: South Asian countries like India, Nepal, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, and Pakistan serve as prime examples of the widespread acceptance and practice of democracy in the region.

OR

- Democracy does not guarantee economic development.
  - In most of the democracies, a small number of ultra-rich enjoy a highly disproportionate share of wealth and income. Those at the bottom find it difficult to meet their basic needs of life, such as food, clothing, house, education, and health find it difficult to meet their basic needs of life, such as food, clothing, house, education, and health
  - For example, countries like South Africa and Brazil, the top 20% of people take away more than 60 % of the national income. Unfortunately, those who are at the bottom of the society have a very little share (less than 3%) to depend upon.
  - Even in India, the elected government looks reluctant to take necessary steps for the upliftment of the large section of poor in our society. The situation is much worse in some other countries. In Bangladesh, more than half of its population lives in poverty.
  - People in several poor countries are now dependent on rich countries even for food supplies.
  - Thus, it can be concluded that in actual life, democracies do not appear to be very successful in reducing economic inequalities. Even though democracy is a rule by the majority but the poor in the majority do not rule the country.
28. i. Buddhism
- The Sinhala leaders sought to secure dominance over the government due to their majority.
  - Majoritarianism policy increased the feeling of alienation among the Sri Lankan Tamils. They believed that their language and culture were not being adequately respected, that they were denied equal political rights, discriminated against in job opportunities, and their interests were ignored.

(c) Demand Deposit

Explanation:

People with extra money deposit it in the banks by opening a bank account in their name. Banks accept deposits and also pay an interest rate on deposits. People also have the provision to withdraw the money as and when they require it. A demand deposit consists of funds held in an account from which deposited funds can be withdrawn at any time from the depository institution.

- 35.
- The developments in information and communication technology have been changing rapidly. Rapid improvement in technology has been one major factor that has stimulated the globalisation process.
  - Telecommunication facilities (telegraph, telephone including mobile phones, fax) are used to contact one another around the world, to access information instantly and to communicate from remote areas. This has been facilitated by satellite communication devices. It has enabled to contact one another around the world, to access information instantly, and to communicate from remote areas.
  - Computers have ventured into the amazing world of the Internet, where one can obtain and share information on almost anything. Internet has allowed to send instant electronic mail and talk across the world at negligible costs. It also allows us to send instant electronic mail (e-mail) and talk (voice-mail) across the world.

Thus, it can be concluded that Information and Communication Technology (ICT) has played a major role in spreading out products and services across the countries.

36. All of the service sectors are not growing equally well in India due to the following reasons:

- i. Different kinds of people are employed by the service sector in India. Only a limited number of services employ highly skilled and educated workers such as managers, lawyers, accountants etc.
- ii. A very large number of workers are engaged in services like small shopkeepers, transport persons, repair persons etc.
- iii. These people barely manage to earn a living and yet perform these services because there is no alternative opportunity for them. Only a part of this sector is growing in importance.

37. I certainly agree with the statement that development for one may be the destruction for others. People have different developmental goals. They seek what is most important for them and fulfil their aspirations and desires. For eg:

- i. The construction of a dam leads to infrastructural development, generation of electricity, etc. but at the same time, it may also lead to the large-scale displacement of people, loss of livelihood, shelter, etc. of the people living near the proposed dam site. Hence, construction of the dam may be developed for some but maybe destruction for others.
- ii. A girl wants as much freedom and opportunity as her brother. Her brother may not like this.
- iii. Rain is beneficial for farmers. But it is destructive to people who are homeless and live in a cottage.

38. In everyday lives, we use money to fulfill our requirement in different ways:

- i. Goods are bought and sold with the use of money.
- ii. Many kinds of services are also exchanged with money.
- iii. Use of money reduce the need of double coincidence of wants.
- iv. A person holding money can easily exchange with goods/ services.
- v. To deposit in banks so that money can be saved and used for future use. For example: If a labourer deposits his monthly salary in his bank account, then, he can use it in installments during the entire month.
- vi. For ex. A shoe manufacturer wants to sell shoes and buy wheat so he needs to sell his shoes and then only he can buy wheat.

OR

- i. Formal sources of credit work according to the norms of Reserve Banks of India.
- ii. The RBI monitors that the banks provide loans not just to the profit-making businessmen and traders, but also to small cultivators, small scale industries, to small borrowers etc.
- iii. Rates of interest are fixed by RBI according to the instructions given by central government. Who works to facilitate to poor farmers and small businessman.
- iv. The formal sources to provide loan at low interest rate because people can increase their income and help them in the overall development of the country.
- v. Low interest rate helps the poor people to increase their economic condition.
