3. (B) Are you going

4. (B) are you seeing

5. (D) I'm going to Hyderabad to join my new job. 6. (C) you will shift to Hyderabad very soon.

Explanation:

1. In options (A), (B) and (C), the pronoun 'you' is used and again at the end of the blank, 'you' is used in the question, which makes the sentence incorrect.

2. 'Nice' is related to behaviour. 'Pretty' and 'neat' are just related to beauty and cleanliness. 'Well' is used to define overall health and life situations.

3. Options (A) and (D) do not give any meaning with the sentences that follow. Option (B) uses 'is' with 'you' which is not the correct usage. Only 'are' is used with 'You' whether in singular or in plural.

4. As the work is still in continuation, Present continuous tense is used. Only 'are' is used with 'You' whether in singular or in plural.

5. If someone is not going anywhere or receiving anyone, so there is no point in coming to Railway Station. Expressing happiness is response to where are you going does not make sense.
6. As Kevin is getting new job in Hyderabad, so, shifting to Hyderabad is the most obvious choice.

- Simple response about Promotion without confirming to the question are incomplete responses. Option (D) gives the reason for being with Tata as well as reason for being there.
- When someone Congratulates and looks forward to a Party, the correct response is to invite him or her for the Party as soon as it suits both.
- As a response to a date for party, one must confirm or reject it in courtesy. Mere responses like 'Ok' and 'Fine' are not courteous.
- One must know the address where the party is going to be hosted. So, complete address needs to be shared with the Invitees.

4. (D) Is someone else accompanying you?
5. (C) In that case, can you take a Cab
6. (A) may take time to reach the Airport.

Explanation:

1. While receiving a call, it is appropriate to know whom the Caller wants to talk to.
2. It does not seem that the speakers have been out of touch for long, so option (A) does not fit. It is impolite to ask as mentioned in option (B). As there has no gap between the speaking or no interruption seems to arise, so option (D) cannot be used.
3. As David has come to the town where Meenu resides, she is bound to complain about why she was not informed earlier so that she could have gone and received him at the Airport.
4. It is polite to enquire who else is coming with the speaker to make suitable arrangements for the Visit.
5. As Meenu cannot go and pick him up now because she was not aware of his arrival, the best option is to guide him how to reach her residence which has been done in option (C).
6. As David is already there, sending Driver will make him wait for extra time.
