Bajirao I

Solution:

1. Bajirao I was a courageous and great general who established the Maratha supremacy in the North and also won status for the Maratha power as a formidable power in the entire India.
2. He was the son of Balaji Vishwanath and was appointed as the Peshwa by Shahu Maharaj in 1720 CE after the death of Balaji.
3. Bajirao expanded the Maratha Empire during his 20-year term.
4. When the Mughal Subhedar of Deccan, Nizam – ul – Mulk, went against the Maratha's rights to recover Chauthai – Sardeshmukhi from the Mughal areas and captured some part of the Pune Pargana, Bajirao decided to counter him. He defeated the Nizam, at Palkhed near Aurangabad and got back the rights of collecting the revenue.
5. He strengthened the Maratha power in Malwa and Bundelkhand, by helping King Chhatrasal against Bangush.
6. While on his march on Delhi in 1737 CE, he defeated the Nizam at Bhopal and secured the sanad of Malwa subhedari for the Marathas.
7. He sent Malharrao Holkar, Ranoji Shinde, and Udaji Pawar under the leadership of his brother Chimajiappa to conquer the Vasai and Thane territories from the Portuguese.
8. Bajirao I died at Raverkhedi on the banks of the Narmada in April 1740, while he was on his way to defend the Mughals from the invasion by Nadirshah, the Emperor of Iran.

Exercise | Q 4.1 | Page 46Give reason.

Two separate Maratha States were formed.

Solution:

1. Shahu Maharaj marched towards Maharashtra after his release from the Mughal prince Azamshah.
2. He was joined by a few Maratha Sardars but Maharani Tarabai declined his claim to the throne of the Maratha Chhatrapati.
3. Shahu Maharaj's army fought with the army of Maharani Tarabai at Khed on the banks of the Bheema and won the battle. He captured Satara and made it the capital of his kingdom. He got himself crowned.
4. Maharani Tarabai proclaimed her minor son Shivaji II as Chhatrapati at Pahnala in 1710 CE. Kolhapur was the capital of this independent kingdom.
5. This mutual opposition between Maharani Tarabai and Shahu Maharaj continued.

Thus, two separate Maratha States were formed, one at Kolhapur and the other at Satara.

Azamshah released Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj from his custody.

Solution:

1. There was a fight after Emperor Aurangzeb's death among his sons for the throne of Delhi.
2. Prince Azamshah, his son, marched towards Delhi from the South to seize the imperial throne.
3. Prince Shahu was in his captivity and he believed that there would be a conflict between Maharani Tarabai and Shahu Maharaj for the gadi of the Maratha Chhatrapati.
4. Such a conflict would make the Maratha strength weak.

Hence, Azamshah released Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj from his custody.

Exercise | Q 4.3 | Page 46Give reason.

Delhi needed the help from the Marathas.

Solution:

1. The Mughal power faced the threat of invasion from Iran and Afghan and also of the local Pathan, local Rajput, Jat, and Rohilas rulers.
2. Aurangzeb's successors were fighting amongst themselves. The Delhi court was marked by bickering and confusion.
3. The internal competition and struggle in the court had also weakened the Mughal power.

Hence, Delhi needed the help from the Marathas.
